

SERVICE BRIEF

Microsoft Teams

Take advantage of modern and flexible business collaboration, augmented by AI.

Consolidate your workplace communications in a trusted platform.

Give your team members the freedom to collaborate the way they want.

While the nature of work continues to evolve, one truth remains unchanged: collaboration and communication are vital to success. Microsoft Teams provides a reliable platform that fosters these connections, helping your business stay aligned and move faster.

Take advantage of what artificial intelligence can do as you collaborate.

Boost cooperativity with various tools, all offering insights and assistance.

Microsoft has embraced the capabilities of AI to enrich the Teams experience, enabling you to benefit from the intelligent features like auto-generated meeting notes and smarter content suggestions. Teams offers a comprehensive range of collaborative tools to promote your business efforts and streamline communications across your team.

By combining options that support different styles of communication and business purposes, Microsoft has delivered a platform that not only enables businesses to work more coherently but to do so more efficiently, with artificial intelligence helping to keep things direct and productive.

Microsoft Teams supports any kind of business communication you need.

Be confident that your team has the right way to keep in touch.

The unified nature of Microsoft Teams makes it a truly centralized hub for all your communication needs. No matter the format—quick chats, calls, or large-scale virtual events—Teams provides the right tools to keep everyone aligned. Here's how:

- Hold virtual meetings in shared spaces, using PowerPoint Live and Microsoft Whiteboard to present, with notes automatically generated. You can even host webinars and other events.
- Use built-in calling features to seamlessly connect with your team. Voicemail and call transfer are native to the Teams platform—and that's just the beginning.
- Create dedicated channels for various needs—from companywide announcements to departmental conversations to external communications—all accessible in one place.
- Instant messaging made easy—quickly reach out to collaborators through familiar, efficient chat functions that keep conversations flowing in real time.

Microsoft Teams unifies your organization's communications, powered by AI-driven insights that keep projects on track and teams connected. Elevate collaboration, streamline processes, and propel productivity—all from a single, trusted platform.
